

Tour Information

Donghwa-sa Temple (Mt.Palgong)

Donghwa-sa Temple is a temple located at the southern edge of Palgong Mountain in Daegu. The name Donghwa-sa means that the empress trees, which surround the temple, remain in bloom all year-round. The temple was founded in the Silla dynasty(A.D.832) and underwent extensive reconstruction in the Joseon dynasty. Most of the present buildings were constructed during the reign of King Yeongjo(1782.).

Daegu Market Tour (Seomun Market, Dongseongro)

Seomun Market is the largest and oldest market in Daegu. It is said that it has been operating for more than a thousand years. Its name, which literally means West Gate, refers to its location within the city walls. It is known as an inexpensive place to shop for a variety of products from food and clothing to leather goods and traditional Korean ceremonial items. Dongseongro Street in Daegu's fashion district is the busiest street in Daegu. It has several large department stores and this commercial district offers brand name outlets and chic restaurants.
